Texture Detectives: Draw What You Notice

Name: _____ Date: _____

Learning goal: Use lines and marks to suggest contrasting textures in a drawing.

Texture Detectives: Draw What You Notice

Look, listen and try. You may point, circle, draw or say your answer. An adult may read and record your words.

Texture Detectives: Draw What You Notice

Texture means how a surface feels or looks as if it would feel. A drawing can suggest texture with marks. Imagine a smooth stone, rough tree bark, and soft wool. No touching or collecting is required.

1. Which imagined surface is rough: the smooth stone or the tree bark?

2. Draw marks that could suggest rough bark.

3. Draw a second box showing soft wool with different marks.

4. Does a drawing of wool have to feel soft when touched? Say why.

Show what you can do

Use the model to complete each task. Spoken or drawn responses are welcome where indicated.

5. Draw an imaginary animal with two different textures. Tell an adult where each texture is.