1. What consequence follows Mara refusing help?

Answer: the stand tilts and she must repair it

2. Suggest a theme supported by both scenes.

Look for:

- States a general idea supported by both.

One possible response: Accepting useful help can improve work without removing personal responsibility.

3. Explain how Mara's later choice develops that theme.

Look for:

- Uses a later action and its role.

One possible response: She coordinates help and still fastens the display herself.

4. Explain how Ivo balances advice and personal choice.

Look for:

- Uses text details.

One possible response: He uses the clearer outline suggestion while keeping parts he likes.

5. Would everyone must always accept all advice fit these scenes? Explain.

Look for:

- Recognizes a qualification.

One possible response: No. Ivo selects useful advice rather than accepting everything.

6. Compare how the two scenes develop the theme.

Look for:

- Accurately compares distinct developments.

One possible response: One uses a practical failure; the other uses fear of criticism and selective revision.

Open responses use criteria and an illustrative response. Other well-supported responses can be acceptable.
